

The Sourcing Map

Same rings, third legend: who to study, and for what. Topics come from the ring your bucket sits on; craft — formats, hooks, storytelling, editing — comes from anywhere on the board, Ring 5 and other niches included. Tap a ring for its full sourcing card.

Ring 2 · Operating founders, no launch clock

TOPICS · THE NARROW BUCKETS

THE PILLAR AT THIS RING

Claim substantiation as a growth decision. Zero of the 50 top-performing videos in this niche touch claims, compliance, or message defensibility — and the only supplement-specific channel teaches launch mechanics instead. The lane is open, and the incumbent is actively manufacturing the problem you fix.

WHO SOURCES HERE

The Defensible Claim and The Counter Files live here; Launch Math waits on the bench.

WHAT TO MAKE HERE

The $53,088 sentence — what one over-claim costs a supplement brand

The claim ladder: say only what your proof carries

The question every buyer asked me at the counter before they'd pay

Compliant and still throttled — the health-flag playbook

Why your honest claim loses to their lie, and the one way it wins

WHO TO STUDY, AND FOR WHAT

Chew On This TOPIC INSPIRATION for how an operating founder talks about a launch, not for topics to copy — a year without a breakout means the lane is open, not closed.

Marketing Operators TOPIC INSPIRATION for what operating marketers argue about weekly; their ROAS distrust is the ground your Data Mirage bench bucket stands on.

THE TRAP AT THIS ALTITUDE

The honest caveat, printed here not buried: zero breakouts in this lane means no incumbent has cracked it — and also means no demand proof yet. Both readings stay on the table until batch 3.

SEARCH TERMS — THE QUIET FIELD

supplement brand FTC warning letter · supplement launch messaging · supplement founder marketing

TOPIC ZONE · RINGS 1–4, BOUND TO THE BUCKET'S OWN RING

Topics stay on the ring the bucket sits on. The Defensible Claim and The Counter Files source Rings 1–3 — the buyer's own words are the deepest well, and the counter years are already in the bank. The Fix Aisle sources Ring 4, then re-aims every piece at the operating supplement founder by name in line one.

CRAFT ZONE · THE WHOLE BOARD, RING 5 INCLUDED

Craft — formats, hooks, storytelling, editing, pacing — comes from anywhere, other niches included. Borrow the compression promise (14.1×), the news-jack timing (64.2×), the interview rhythm (15.9×). Ring 5 is craft-only: sourcing topics there is how a claim-safe strategist's channel drifts into being another marketing channel.

RING 5 = CRAFT INSPIRATION ONLY. NEVER SOURCE TOPICS HERE. · AN EMPTY RING IS NOT A PROBLEM
— IT IS YOUR OPENING: PULL FROM THE ADJACENT RING AND RE-AIM.

THE TRAP THIS VIEW INVITES: Reading craft permission as topic permission. Ring 5 skeletons — the compression promise, the news-jack — are borrowable; Ring 5 subjects are not. Topic drift starts as one “broader” video.
