

fifty receipts, six buckets, three picks

The live top-50 scan for the supplement-and-performance growth engagement: every row screened with a visible verdict, six topic buckets with named mechanisms, and a conversion column that decides in dollars - which bucket makes money, and how we know by batch three.

01 what the pool says

SHAPE OF THE WINNERS

Fifty ranked rows, twenty-five qualified for the avatar, twenty-five struck with reasons kept visible. Outlier means N-times that channel's own normal views-per-day, so a 2,800-view roundtable episode can outrank a 400K-view vlog. The pool's winners cluster broad (Rings 3-4: mechanism waves, platform shifts, founder stories); the in-lane supplement-operations bucket is the thinnest, two rows at 4x median. That thinness reads two ways and the artifact keeps both live: no incumbent has cracked the lane, and no demand proof exists. The trio protects the narrow picks against the pool's broad pull, and every bucket carries a working-equals threshold answerable in his own inbox by batch three.

A - Mechanism Waves: median 12.0x, rising (all rows Jul-Aug 2026). Mechanism: new-tool hope

'Claude Has Officially Changed Facebook Ads Forever' - 41K views, 21.8x, 2026-08-09. Feeds The Fix Aisle - the reach bucket, named and priced in the audience map - reach-only, flagged honestly

B - Platform Shift: median 13.7x, ceiling 64.2x. Mechanism: chaos vigilance. Trap printed: a person winning, not a topic

'Amazon Just Lost Control Of Shopping!' - 1.4M views, 64.2x, 2026-04-28; two of three rows are the same channel

VERIFIED

C - Founder Proof Stories: 7 rows, median 5.7x. Mechanism: possibility witness. The story SHAPE transfers; the exit-interview topic does not

Quad Lock half-billion exit - 39K, 15.9x, 2026-07-30; five of seven rows are @foundr with celebrity guests

D - Operator Discipline: 7 rows, median 6.4x, rising (6 of 7 in Aug 2026). Mechanism: competence armor

'Do This to Scale Your CPG Brand' - 9.9K, 14.2x, 2026-08-13; Haus incrementality row proves ROAS distrust is already installed in the buyer's watering hole

@commonthreadco / @MarketingOperators ↗

E - In-Lane Supplement Ops: 2 rows, median 4.0x - the thinnest bucket IS the finding

Gruns marketing-pod episode (6K, 4.1x, 2026-08-14) and Taste Salud build (12K, 3.9x, 2026-06-28) are the only in-lane rows in fifty; the money lane has no incumbent and no demand proof - both stated

F - Conversion Tactics: median 6.8x. Mechanism: fix-it-now utility

Product-page blueprint - 12K, 19.9x, 2025-01-10; utility converts aspirants too, so reply-quality check before scaling

Amazon losing its grip on shopping — rising. The 'who controls product discovery' story keeps compounding

Within 90 days: ChatGPT gained in-chat checkout through a major card issuer (Aug 17), Visa opened payments to AI shopping agents (June), and Amazon began licensing its own shopping assistant to other retailers (June)

AI inside Meta ads — rising, and contested. Advertisers are actively arguing over how much creative to hand the machines

Meta pushed AI deeper into ad creative all summer (its Muse Image generator, agency AI tools, a WPP integration) while Business Insider reported in July the push is causing chaos for brands

The Etsy squeeze on print-on-demand — spiking right now

Etsy's tightened Prohibited Items Policy took effect August 11, 2026, and the company cut 12% of staff the same week; seller-anxiety content asking whether Etsy is done with print-on-demand is fresh and multiplying

LIKELYQuartz Aug 6 · ShieldMyShop policy brief ↗

No-inventory supplement launching — flat, evergreen, and aimed at first-time starters rather than operating brands

The 2026 guides to launching a supplement line with no inventory keep getting refreshed and the leading on-demand fulfillment platform anchors a whole comparison ecosystem, but no fresh news spike showed up — which confirms keeping this audience out of the working set

Product-page fixes — steady demand with a fresh 2026 edge: the skeptical, label-reading buyer

Supplement-specific conversion guides refreshed in mid-2026 treat ingredient transparency itself as the conversion lever, because this year's buyer reads labels, Googles ingredients, and cross-checks dosages against studies

the three picks, with the reasoning shown

Rank orders the pool; it does not dictate the pick. All three picks are content buckets named and priced in the audience map.

01 The Defensible Claim (narrow, Ring 2) - a positioning bet with a written kill rule

Zero pool rows in the lane (the whitespace finding, not an endorsement); strongest offer linkage on the board; demand probe is batches 1-3 with the kill/keep already written

02 The Counter Files (narrow, Ring 2) - proof-story mechanism, receipted

Bucket C proves the mechanism at 5.7x median across 7 rows; his counter years are the uncopyable version; trap avoided: chasing foundr's topics without their guests chases a person-effect

03 The Fix Aisle (broad, Ring 4) - ride the pool's strongest current wave, install the belief

Buckets A+B are rising with a 64.2x skeleton ceiling; he builds and runs this class of AI tooling himself, so he can demo any mechanism honestly before naming the decision it cannot make

04 Pass on the 64.2x Amazon topic; borrow its skeleton

The two-zone rule working as designed - Ring 5 and person-effect topics are craft sources, never topic sources

The thinnest bucket is the money lane - no incumbent and no demand proof, and both stay true until batch three

Run batches one through three as the demand probe they were priced as: count operating-founder replies in the inbox, not views, and let the written kill/keep make the call on schedule

VERIFIEDbasis: 2 in-lane rows of 50

The waves worth riding are dated and moving now - AI checkout compounding, the Etsy squeeze spiking - and a wave only pays while it is live

Aim the first reach piece at whichever story is freshest the week it records; a shift read published late is just commentary

VERIFIEDbasis: live web read, aug 27

This year's supplement buyer reads labels and cross-checks dosages - claim integrity is now conversion advice, not compliance homework

Frame the claim content that way from video one: what your label can prove is why the skeptical buyer converts. Same material, twice the reason to watch

LIKELYbasis: 2026 conversion guides

what the scan cannot see

LinkedIn - where this business actually converts - is outside this scan.

TikTok and Instagram: not measured. The scan sees views, never DMs:

before crowning a conversion winner, confirm the replies come from operating founders, not aspirants. Momentum per bucket arrives with the next scan, spaced a day or more out. No verdict on any video at 24 hours; no bucket demotion before batches 2-3.
