Copy-and-Paste Scripts That Convert Strangers Into Clients

THE OUTREACH PHILOSOPHY

Core Truth: People don't buy from strangers. They buy from people who understand their pain and offer genuine solutions. Every outreach must demonstrate understanding, not just offer services.

The Three Pillars of Effective Outreach:

1. Specificity beats generic every time
 2. Vulnerability creates connection
 3. Value before asking for anything

COLD OUTREACH TEMPLATES

LinkedIn Connection Requests

Template 1: The Regular Guy Angle

Hi [Name], I noticed you're a [job title] at [company]. I work with professionals who are tired of choosing between career success and physical health. Would love to connect and share insights on sustainable energy management.

Template 2: The Faith Connection

[Name], saw your post about [faith-related content]. I help Christian professionals honor God with their bodies while excelling at work. Would value connecting with another believer in the business world.

Template 3: The Specific Pain Point

Hi [Name], I help [industry] professionals solve the 3pm energy crash without living at the gym. Noticed you're in [industry] and thought you might relate. Would love to connect.

First Message After Connection

Template 1: The Question Opener

Thanks for connecting, [Name]!

Quick question - what's your biggest challenge when it comes to maintaining energy throughout your work day?

(I ask because I specialize in helping [industry] professionals overcome the 3pm crash without sacrificing family time or living at the gym. Always curious what others are experiencing.)

Template 2: The Value-First Approach

Hey [Name], thanks for accepting!

I just posted a quick guide on how regular guys can boost energy by 40% with a 15-minute morning routine. Thought it might be helpful given your role at [company].

[Link to content]

No agenda here - just sharing what's worked for me and the men I coach.

What's your current morning routine look like?

Template 3: The Story Share

[Name], appreciate the connection!

Random question - have you ever had one of those moments where you realized something had to change with your health?

I had mine on my kitchen floor at 3am (long story). Now I help guys avoid their own "kitchen floor moment" by making small brave choices daily.

Curious what's kept you motivated in your own health journey?

Follow-Up Messages

After No Response (48 hours):

Hey [Name], know you're busy - just wanted to make sure my message didn't get buried.

Quick recap: I help [industry] guys beat exhaustion without extreme measures.

If that's not relevant, no worries! But if you're struggling with energy, happy to share what's worked for 30+ guys just like you.

Either way, have a great week!

After They Engage (Respond Immediately):

[Acknowledge their response specifically]

That's exactly what I hear from most [industry] professionals. The good news? It's more fixable than you think.

I've developed something called the "Brave Choice Method" - it's not about perfect workouts or restrictive diets. It's about proving to yourself you can change anything through consistent small choices.

Would you be open to a quick 15-minute call to see if what I do might help? No pressure, just a conversation between two regular guys.

I have openings [specific times]. What works best?

The Soft Close:

[Name], based on everything you've shared, you're exactly who I designed my program for.

Here's what I'm thinking - let's hop on a quick call, I'll share exactly how the program works, and you can decide if it's a fit. No hard selling, just straight talk about what it takes to transform.

You free [day] at [time] or [day] at [time]?

PS - Either way, I'm sending you my "5-Minute Energy Audit" - try it tomorrow morning and let me know what you think.

PARTNERSHIP OUTREACH TEMPLATES

To Churches/Ministry Leaders

Initial Outreach:

Subject: Helping Your Men's Ministry Members with Physical Stewardship

Pastor [Name],

I'm Coach Cooz, a faith-based fitness coach here in [City]. I help Christian men honor God with their bodies through what I call the "Brave Choice Method."

I've noticed many men's ministries focus on spiritual growth but struggle to address the physical exhaustion and health challenges their members face. I'd love to explore how I might serve your congregation.

Would you be open to a brief conversation about potentially offering a free workshop for your men's group? Something like "Physical Discipline as Spiritual Obedience"?

I have availability next week Tuesday at 10am or Thursday at 2pm. Would either work for you?

In His Service,

Coach Cooz

[Website]

[Phone]

Follow-Up:

Pastor [Name],

Following up on my note from earlier this week. I know you're busy with kingdom work!

I'd love to serve your men's ministry with a free workshop. Even sent over some feedback from the last one I did at [Other Church]:

"Coach Cooz helped our men see fitness as worship, not vanity. Game-changer." - Pastor Smith

Would you have 15 minutes this week to explore how this might serve your congregation?

Blessings,

Coach Cooz

To Christian Counselors/Therapists

Initial Outreach:

Subject: Physical Support for Your Counseling Clients

Dr. [Name],

I'm Coach Cooz, a faith-based fitness coach specializing in helping Christian men who are stuck in cycles of physical neglect.

I've found that many men in counseling also struggle with physical health, and that addressing the body often unlocks emotional and spiritual breakthroughs.

I'd love to explore a referral partnership where I can support the physical transformation of clients you're helping emotionally and spiritually.

Would you be open to a brief coffee chat to discuss how we might collaborate?

Best available [Day] at [Time] or [Day] at [Time].

In Service,
Coach Cooz

To Gym Owners/Managers

Initial Outreach:

Subject: Bringing High-Value Members to [Gym Name]

Hi [Name],

I'm Coach Cooz, a transformation coach who works with professional men on complete life change through fitness.

Here's what's interesting for you: Every client I take on needs a gym membership, and they stick around. My clients have an 83% higher retention rate than typical members because they're committed to transformation, not just working out.

I'm looking for a gym partner where I can:

- Bring in 5-10 new committed members monthly
- Occasionally use space for small group training
- Create a success story pipeline for your marketing

In exchange, I'd love to discuss a referral arrangement or space agreement.

Coffee this week to explore? I'm free [Day] at [Time].

PAST CLIENT RE-ENGAGEMENT

The Check-In That Sells

Template 1: Success Story Angle

[Name]! Been thinking about you.

Remember when you [specific achievement from working together]? Still proud of what you accomplished.

Quick update - I've completely revolutionized my approach since we worked together. It's called the "Brave Choice Method" now, and it's specifically designed for guys who've "started over" before.

The transformation stories have been incredible. [Share brief client win].

If you're ready to finish what we started, I have 2 spots opening up next week. Interested in hearing about it?

Different price, different approach, same commitment to your success.

You free for a quick catch-up call?

Template 2: The Honesty Approach

Hey [Name],

Real talk - I was going through my client list and saw your name. Made me wonder how you're doing.

I know you didn't get the full transformation you wanted when we worked together. That's on me as much as you.

Here's the thing - I've learned A LOT since then. My new approach focuses on the mental/spiritual side first, physical second. It's been game-changing for guys who've struggled before.

No hard sell here, but if you're still wanting to make that change, I'd love to share what's different now.

Either way, hope you're well brother.

REFERRAL REQUEST TEMPLATES

To Current Clients

Template 1: Direct Ask

[Name], quick question...

You've been crushing it in the program. Down [X pounds], energy through the roof, [other specific win].

I'm looking to help 2-3 more guys get similar results. Who do you know that:

- Complains about being tired all the time
- Used to be in shape but lost it
- Keeps saying they need to "get back to the gym"

I have a special rate for referrals from current clients. Plus, you'd get a month free for each guy who joins.

Anyone come to mind?

Template 2: Story Approach

Brother, need your help...

Remember when you told me about [specific struggle they had]?

I'm looking for 3 more guys going through something similar. Want to help them the same way we've helped you.

If you know anyone who's:

- Exhausted but "too busy" to fix it
- Disappointed when they look in the mirror
- Ready to change but doesn't know how

Send them my way. I'll take care of them like I've taken care of you.

Plus, I'll knock $100 off your next month for each referral.

Who needs this?

SOCIAL MEDIA DM TEMPLATES

Instagram Response to Story Views

Hey [Name], saw you watched my story about [topic].

Something resonate with you?

Always curious what hits home for guys when I share this stuff.

Facebook Group Introduction

What's up everyone!

Coach Cooz here. I help regular guys stop making excuses and start making brave choices when it comes to their health.

Not here to sell anything - just want to contribute value to the group.

If you're a guy who:

- Used to be in shape but lost it
- Gets exhausted by 3pm daily
- Knows what to do but doesn't do it

I'll be sharing practical tips that actually work for busy professionals.

Looking forward to serving this community!

Question for the group: What's your biggest health challenge right now?

EMAIL OUTREACH TEMPLATES

Cold Email to Prospects

Subject Lines That Work:

- "Quick question about your energy levels"
- "For [Company] professionals only"
- "[Mutual connection] suggested I reach out"
- "You requested info about fitness coaching"

Email Body:

Hi [Name],

I'll keep this brief since I know you're busy.

I help professionals at companies like [Company] solve a specific problem: the 3pm energy crash that's killing their productivity and family life.

My approach isn't about extreme workouts or restrictive diets. It's about something I call "brave choices" - small, consistent actions that compound into transformation.

Recent client result: Mark (project manager, 3 kids) dropped 22 pounds and hasn't needed afternoon coffee in 2 months.

Would you be opposed to a quick 15-minute call to see if this might help you?

If not, no worries - I'll share a free resource that might help anyway.

Make brave choices,
Coach Cooz

PS - I'm only taking on 3 new clients this month. If you're interested, let's talk soon.

PODCAST PITCH TEMPLATES

The Perfect Pitch

Subject: How Regular Guys Reclaim Their Strength Through Faith-Based Fitness

Hi [Host Name],

Love what you're doing with [Podcast Name], especially your recent episode on [specific episode topic].

I'm Coach Cooz, and I have a story your audience needs to hear:

Last year, I found myself sobbing on my kitchen floor at 3am, completely broken. That breakdown became my breakthrough when I discovered that physical discipline is actually spiritual obedience.

Now I help regular guys transform their bodies as a way to transform their entire lives using what I call the "Brave Choice Method."

I'd love to share:

- Why willpower fails without faith
- The 3-step process that helped me lose 8% body fat
- How regular guys can achieve extraordinary results
- Why physical transformation unlocks everything else

Recent press: [Any features, big transformations, credentials]

I can provide:

- High-energy, vulnerable conversation
- Actionable takeaways for listeners
- Promotional support to my audience
- A free resource for your listeners

Available for recording [give 3-4 specific dates/times].

Would this resonate with your audience?

OBJECTION HANDLING SCRIPTS

"I Need to Think About It"

I totally get it, [Name]. This is a big decision.

Can I ask - what specifically do you need to think through? Is it:

- The time commitment?
- The financial investment?
- Whether you're ready to change?
- Something else?

[Listen to response]

Here's what I've found - the guys who "think about it" are usually still thinking 6 months later, except now they're 6 months further from their goals.

What if we did this: Start with just the first month. If you don't see dramatic changes in energy and confidence, we part as friends.

That takes the pressure off while still letting you make progress.

What do you think?

"I Can't Afford It"

I hear you, [Name]. Money is real and I respect that.

Can I ask you something? What's it costing you to stay where you are?

- The confidence you've lost?
- The energy you don't have for your kids?
- The respect you're losing for yourself?

Here's what I know - you're already paying a price. It's just not showing up on your credit card statement.

Let's do this: What CAN you afford? I'd rather work with you at a price you can handle than not work with you at all.

We can figure out a plan that works for both of us. Deal?

"I've Tried Everything"

Actually, that's perfect, [Name].

You know why? Because you haven't tried THIS.

Everything you've tried has been about willpower, restriction, and pushing through. Am I right?

My approach is different. It starts with surrender, not strength. It's faith-based, not just physical.

Look, if you'd truly tried everything, we wouldn't be talking. There's something in you that knows there's still an answer out there.

That's not failure talking - that's wisdom. You know generic approaches don't work for you.

Give me 30 days to show you what you haven't tried. What do you have to lose except another month of feeling stuck?

VOICE NOTE SCRIPTS

The Personal Touch That Converts

Initial Outreach Voice Note (30 seconds):

"Hey [Name], Coach Cooz here. Saw you're a [role] at [company] and thought I'd reach out personally instead of just another typed message.

I help guys in [industry] beat the 3pm exhaustion without living at the gym.

If that resonates, I'd love to share a quick resource that's helped 30+ guys just like you.

No agenda, just wanting to serve. Hit me back if you're interested!"

Follow-Up Voice Note (20 seconds):

"[Name], quick follow-up from yesterday. Know you're slammed but wanted to make sure my message didn't get buried.

If energy and health aren't priorities right now, totally get it.

But if you're tired of being tired, I've got something that could help.

Let me know either way, brother!"
